Christmas Greetings

"And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord."

Let the glorious Christmas story be heard again... And as you celebrate this day, may you know in your heart all of the happiness that comes from the feeling of peace and good will to all.

colored lights lined the way to everything that was already, Christmas glow. He smiled faintly of Christmas could be. He remembered he knew he was being rudely as they hurried homeward and his son was home. What fun a long day of play. Their voices expressed the feeling of that long wait, and his son had not so much as a Christmas card. He opened his last holiday deliveries. Yes, in the midst of such Christmas spirit, Mr. Jackson was neither nor gay. His attitude toward Christmas was not unlike that of the fabled Scrooge. His hope and expectation of Christmas had been crushed when the mail train had chugged slowly out of the station leaving behind a sorrowful, old man with no long-awaited letter from his only son across.

Mr. Jackson passed one home after another grudgingly putting into each mail box batches of Christmas cards. The homes, which were gaily decorated with Christmas green, made him think of his own home with its bleak, bare windows staring out at him as if begging for a bit of Christmas cheer. No, he thought sadly, there would be no Christmas at his house.

There would not even be a tree at the door and dropped to the sofa with weary relief. He must have fallen asleep for the next thing he knew he was still alive, awakened by a loud persistent knocking at the door.

Upon opening the door he stared out at a smiling young man.

"Yes, and what do you want?" he questioned. Then added bitterly, "I thought everyone was at home with his family."

"I suppose they are, Mr. Jackson," he answered, "in fact, that's where I'm headed after I give you this letter."

"Letter?" cried Mr. Jackson in utter surprise.

Yes, letter," laughed the young man. "You know I work at the Post Office and today I was staying late helping to settle the last Christmas business when I saw this letter marked SPECIAL DELIVERY. The delivery boy had gone so I brought it over myself. You walked here, way across town, on Christmas Eve to give me this letter?" asked the bewildered Mr. Jackson.

"Why, it's the Christmas spirit, sir," cried the young man who was turning to leave. "Good night, Mr. Jackson, and Merry Christmas."

He walked away leaving behind him an excited Mr. Jackson fever.

He trudged doggedly on picking his way precariously over the slippery ice-covered sidewalk muttering to himself, "These blasted Christmas cards! Who ever thought of such a foolish idea? Christmas cards, indeed! Didn't anyone think of the postman whose duty it was to deliver them? Of course not, the inconsiderate fools!"

Finally, delivering the last card he made his way home. He opened

Christmas is a happy season of giving and receiving, of good times and good cheer. Here's wishing you all its pleasures.

Christmas is a holy season, a time to worship and rejoice. May its deepest spiritual meaning bring you peace and joy.

HOME AGENT'S NOTES

IDA LAURA GARRAWAY
Home Demonstration Agent
Hatchcock County

As much a part of Christmas Holiday Season as carols, gay packages around beautifully decorated trees, and a spirit of giving and good will are festive tables of holiday treats.

This column will give you recipes for several 'treats' you may find to your liking. A mimeographed leaflet giving a number of holiday recipes is available at your home agent's office.

JELLIED AMBROSIA SALAD

- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
  - 1/4 cup cold water
  - 1/4 cup boiling water
  - 2 tablespoons sugar
  - 1 1/4 cups fresh orange juice
  - 2 table spoons fresh lemon juice
  - 3 medium oranges
  - 1 large banana
  - 3 tablespoons grated or shredded coconut
- Soften gelatin in cold water. Dissolve in boiling water. Add sugar and stir until completely dissolved. Add orange juice. Peel oranges and cut into sections. Peel and slice bananas. When orange mixture is syrupy, fold in fruit and coconut. Pour into a 3 cup mold or 4 individual molds and chill until firm. Serve garnished with orange sections and shredded coconut. Yield: 4 servings.

CHEESE BITS

- Tangy cheese 6 ounces
  - 1 1/3 cup sifted flour
  - 1/4 pound butter (1 stick)
  - Season to taste with pepper
  - Toll as refrigerator cookies. Garnish with chopped pecans. Bake 375 degrees F. Serve with salad.
- MAYONNAISE QUICK SAUCE.
Mix 3/4 cup mayonnaise with 1/4 cup milk. Heat this together slightly but do not boil. Pour over vegetables as broccoli and asparagus. It's delicious over steam-cabbage, too.

ORANGE-DATE-NUT CAKE

- 1 cup nuts, slivered fine
- 2 cups sugar
- 1 1/2 cup buttermilk
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 1 cup shortening
- 4 cups flour (sifted)
- 4 eggs beaten slightly lightly opening the letter and reading the contents slowly and aloud. "Will be home for Christmas, your son, Al."

Slowly Mr. Jackson turned and in that brief moment the whole true meaning of Christmas seemed to light his face as he called after the receding figure of the man, "Thank you and Merry Christmas."

SJA Sea Sprite

1 box cake mix
1 cup orange juice
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons orange rind, grated
Cream butter and sugar. Sift cake mix and soda together two or three times. Take about one cup of the flour mixture and work it in well with the nuts and dates. Add lightly beaten eggs to creamed shortening and sugar. Mix from there on as you would any other cake. Bake in a tube cake pan for one and one half hours at 250 degrees.

Put wax paper in bottom of cake pan. When cake is removed from the oven, pour a mixture of the 1 cup of orange juice, 2 cups of sugar and three tablespoons orange rind that has been heated to boiling over the cake while still in the pan. Let stand until all is absorbed.

This cake ages well and keeps its moist quality for days—weeks, in fact, if carefully covered.

COUNTIES SPLIT $750,921 FOREST PROFITS

Twenty-three Mississippi counties will share $750,921 gross receipts of the Mississippi National Forests for the fiscal year 1957, which ended June 30. Timber sales accounted for 79 percent of the income, with mineral leases second. Franklin County, in Southwest Mississippi, will receive the greatest amount $112,309. Counties are required by law to spend the money for public schools and roads.

We'd like to sing out our thanks to you for your loyal patronage and to wish you a holiday full of old-fashioned warmth, merriment and much good fellowship.

LOYAL SERVICE

How often have you noticed employees of Mississippi Power Company wearing this emblem? Quite often, no doubt, because more than 450 of our employees having more than a 5-year service record are now wearing these emblems.

For more than a quarter of a century now we have endeavored constantly to provide our customers with dependable electrical service. We are confident that we have achieved that goal even though we continue to strive for further improvements. We realize that without the loyal and efficient service of our more than 650 skilled men and women we could not provide dependable electric service to our customers. Mississippi Power Company is proud of its employees and their records. This year 129 employees received new service award emblems ranging from 5 to 40 years.

Throughout our company our active employees' records of service are as follows:

40 years and over	5 employees
35 to 40 years	11 employees
30 to 35 years	44 employees
25 to 30 years	25 employees
20 to 25 years	39 employees
15 to 20 years	55 employees
10 to 15 years	184 employees
5 to 10 years	197 employees

The skills of these men and women cannot be measured in dollars and cents. But to our customers they mean better living electrically — at the lowest possible cost, and a united team working diligently and continuously for the betterment of our state and its people.

CHRISTMAS BELONGS TO ALL AGES, TO ALL PEOPLE EVERYWHERE

Is it true, as they say, that Christmas belongs to the children? Christmas is indeed a time when hearts must be young but it is not only the child who can know and share the love and faith and hope that brightens the heart of Christmas time.

Christmas is a great spiritual occasion and the atmosphere of excitement and anticipation that permeates the world of the young has a deeper, more significant counterpart in the world of the older generation. The hard-boiled, cynical and the disbelievers cannot enter into the spirit of Christmas. Their hearts are too heavy, too filled with guilt and inner fears, and they close their eyes to all but the material aspects of the holiday observance. But there are those at all ages whose heart becomes filled with the wondrous glory of the occasion, who see beyond the glitter and foil and tinsel and who enter with the faith of a little child into the realm of the spirit known as Christmas. For all these, there is joy and peace and happiness.

Belongs To All
 Christmas belongs to the children? Christmas belongs to all. It is ours to share, to the fullest measure. And, if the truth be known, we elders have a much greater share in the holiday than our children. To them, Christmas is bright lights and Santa Claus and snow and tinsel on the tree, and toys and fruits and good things to eat, and the mere acts of giving and receiving. Have you ever considered the fact that we share in all these aspects of the holiday—in addition to the deeper, truer meaning of Christmas, and the most important part, which the very young heart is yet unable to understand or comprehend?

Christmas belongs to the children. No, Christmas is ours. A part of the holiday, a bright and shiny part, belongs to the children. But they must grow in years and faith and wisdom before they can really share in the whole and complete spirit of Christmas.

DROP-OUT RATE TOO HIGH

At a time when the nation is crying for more trained brainpower, it is distressing to hear Mississippi has an unusually high rate among pupils who drop out of school. The Children's Code Commission recently reported on results of a survey made of 782 children who entered the first grade in five Mississippi towns in 1940, normally, they would have graduated in 1952, but only 286 received diplomas. The national average for graduation is 50 per cent of those entering. Reasons for drop-outs included marriage, military service, employment, school difficulties and ill health. Military service should not be a reason for quitting school. Military authorities want thinking manpower, and they prefer the youth to complete his classroom work before reporting for duty. The best of advice for a youngster these days is to learn to think.

NOW'S THE TIME TO SET UP PLANS ON WEED CURBS

Since 1958 has been designated weed control year on all grasses and weeds that chemicals have been selected for, it will pay to study your farm to see what weeds infest crops and pastures, also, the different kinds of equipment and decide what fits your needs and make plans to control them with chemicals and proper equipment. Four major weeds that must be controlled in pastures are dock, bitter weed, thistle and cypress weed. Wild onion is one of the major pests in dairy grazing, but they are hard to kill. Of these 4-D will kill all except the cypress weed, and while it will not kill the onions, it will knock them down and out of the way of grazing cattle.

Also, the county school board would be a member of a municipal separate service district, such boards would not have representation on the county school board. But for each such board, a person would be elected who resides in that part of the county outside the separate district.

Also, the NC policy calls for the abolition of the office of county superintendent of education and county boards of education in counties without a county-wide district. At present, this would affect only 13 counties, as 69 counties have county-wide districts.

In these 69 counties, the county superintendent has direct administration over schools. In the

CHRISTMAS TREE CARE HALTS FIRE HAZARDS

You wouldn't build a fire on the living room floor, but an improperly decorated Christmas tree amounts to the same thing. Don't invite Santa to come to your house on a fire engine—follow these precautions in Christmas tree lighting and decorating.

Make Clothes Simple
Doll clothes should be attractive, yet made so the child can manage them herself. They should be open down either the front or the back and fasten with snaps, large buttons or ties.

The construction and material used in toys is also important. Since hard plastics break easily, soft plastics, metal and wood are better for toys. Inspect metal toys carefully to be sure there are no sharp edges.

Check Carefully
Be sure every lighting set and electric cord you use is in good condition—not work or frayed wires, no loose sockets.

When you buy new sets or cords, look for the approval "Underwriters' Label." The ones that bear it have passed tests for fire and shock hazards.

Provide a switch some distance from the tree for turning tree lights on and off.

Ornaments should be made of fireproof material—metal or glass.

Never set up electric trains under the tree.

Don't let gift wrappings pile up under the tree.

Don't leave tree light burning when no one is home.

From time to time, check needles near the lights to see if they have started to turn brown.

When needles start to fall, take the tree down and discard it out doors.

Named "Man Of The Year In Service To Southern Agriculture"

Claude L. Welch, head of the National Cotton Council's production and marketing division, has been named 1957 "Man Of The Year In Service To Southern Agriculture" by Progressive Farmer magazine.

Cited for "notable service in the field of cotton production and marketing," Mr. Welch, as the 21st annual award winner, joins a group of some of the South's most outstanding farm and political leaders and scientists.

In announcing the 1957 Man of the Year Award, Progressive Farmer recognized Mr. Welch for Council activities aimed at eradicating the pink boll worm, its efforts in cotton quality improvement programs, and various production conferences.

The pink bollworm program of expanded research and strengthened quarantine and control is acres of small grains, on dormant permanent pastures and in sod weeded grazing areas.

But, do not use 2, 4-D on areas where crimson clover, red clover, vetch or winter peas are growing. The chemical will seriously injure these plants.

If you have dock infested pastures where a lot of young white clover is growing, wait until later to spray. This will give the clover time to grow and toughen so that the clover will be able to withstand any burning effort of the chemical.

HOGS

What kind of hogs are you selling? Are you getting top prices for yours?

The market wants meaty, top quality hogs. The old style, lardy, over fat hog is a thing of the past. The housewife, who decides what meat to buy, wants lean meat. If she cannot find it at the pork counter, she will buy some other kind of meat.

It is up to you to produce what the consumer wants. Grow meat type hogs. Every breed has some of the right kind as well as some of the wrong kind.

It is not a matter of choosing the correct breed, but the proper individuals within the breed.

Don't get your hogs too fat to carry them too long. Normally it pays to sell hogs at 200 to 215 pounds liveweight. Up to this weight hogs make more economical gains and yield a more desirable carcass.

TREE PLANTING

Planting time is here for tree seedlings. Plenty of moisture is in the ground for plantings and trees are being delivered. Make sure that you handle yours properly when they arrive.

For slash and loblolly pine, deep planting is recommended. In recent tests seedlings planted to the bud had a 94 percent survival, while those planted at standard depth had a survival of only 67 percent.

If you are using a mechanical planter, grade the seedlings. Don't try mixing large and small seedlings.

DAIRYING

Comfortable cows will give more milk and make you more money. They are not comfortable if out in cold rainy weather. Give them some shelter, plenty of feed and clean, cool water. They will pay for their keep, if you give them a chance.

WEST COAST DEANERY OF NCCW MEETING AT PASS CHRISTIAN

The West Coast Deanery of the National Council of Catholic Women held its quarterly meeting in Pass Christian on Wednesday, December 11th in St. Joseph's School with Mrs. Lucile Weeks, president, presiding.

Father McGlade, the pastor of St. Paul's Church, Pass Christian, Father Cletus Manon, Piquette, Mrs. Father John P. Robinson of our Lady of the Gulf Church, and Father Edwin Bower of St. Augustine's Seminary of Bay St. Louis, Pass Christian, Long Beach, Gulfport and Piquette Units in attendance.

Father McGlade opened the meeting with a prayer. Mrs. Flora Mauffray, secretary and treasurer, read the minutes of the previous meeting and financial report. Mrs. Weeks called for the reports of the various committees.

It was stated that the ladies of the Bay St. Louis Unit will give a Christmas Party on Wednesday, Dec. 18th for the Veterans of the Gulfport V. A. Hospital, at the hospital.

An excerpt from a message written by President Eisenhower on Crusade for Freedom was read by Mrs. Weeks, following the reading of the Council's National President's message.

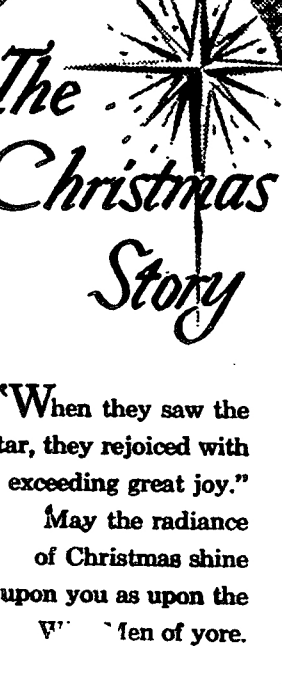

A most interesting account was given by Mrs. Flora Mauffray on the recent convention, held in Biloxi.

Mrs. Weeks announced the sud-

The Precious Gift

With a certain air of joy surrounding her and her eyes sparkling, eight-year-old Patty came rushing up to the latched door of her Mother's dining bedroom. A perpetual flow of happiness seeped through every motion in her fairlike body, for today was the long-awaited Christmas. Joyous Christmas, the best day of the year, so her Mother had once told her.

She looked so young and yet so old. Her face was drawn slightly and her eyes black. She was already turning a silvery gray. Still little Patty loved her dearly, for she was the only special treasure she had.

Carefully, so as not to awaken her, Patty crept over to the sagging bed. She touched the old ragged bed.

With overwhelming excitement she rapped on the door and called to her sleeping Mother.

"Oh, how wonderful it would be to visit the Christ Child in his little bed of matted straw, but then how disappointing when he found out she had not a single gift to give Him. It was getting

HOME MAKERS NEED REMINDING

How many additional milk sales can be made through point-of-sale promotion, urging consumers to "take home an extra quart for the weekend"? More than enough to make the promotion worth while, says the American Dairy Association. The association bases its opinion on "information gathered in a continuous study of consumers' attitudes toward dairy products. According to the survey—conducted on a nation-wide basis by Alfred Pollitz Research Inc.—more than half of all homemakers sometimes find themselves without milk when they need it, usually on the weekend. "When these homemakers find themselves without milk on a weekend, they most likely will shrug their shoulders and decide to do without", said Sam Gunter, state manager.

"The market for selling the extra weekend milk is gained or lost at the point of sale, and the indication is that the market can be greatly expanded by in-store promotions urging homemakers to be SURE she has enough milk to see her through the weekend.

About two-thirds of the adult population drink both milk and coffee, yet only one-fourth of this group drinks both at the same meal. Increased promotion of the "MILK NOW, COFFEE LATER" theme in both restaurants and homes can increase this market.

Cheese promotion opportunities indicated by the survey show that emphasis on use in sandwiches, ease of preparation in cooked dishes, adaptability to many different kinds of uses, nourishment and good taste will appeal to the average homemaker. Over 46 percent of cheese users listed ease of preparation as a significant advantage.

The study also shows that the number of homemakers using butter only or both butter and oleomargarine continues at higher level than two years ago. Butter has gained in prestige cooking uses over the last three years.

Queries on the use of ice cream showed that almost one-third of all homes have ice cream on hand on an average day, and that about one-half of all homemakers serve it at least once a week.

Alex Dreier Gives Salute To Mississippi On NBC Monitor Network

"This is the New South of Yesterday and the New South of Tomorrow—Mississippi, where the ante-bellum mansion sits in the shadow of the new factory, and mint juleps and magnolias and cotton are giving way to the 10 A. M. coffee break," said Alex Dreier in his Salute to Mississippi Sunday, December 8, on NBC-MONTOR over a coast-to-coast network.

"Mississippi is 47,716 square miles of land, two million people eager to embrace new opportunities, economical natural gas and plenty of it, great stands of timber, oil, plentiful power, and a climate that keeps travel editors wearing out typewriter ribbons," he continued, but she's still a romantic old girl who hasn't forgotten her manners or how to flirt with a fan."

Governor J. P. Coleman addressed the nation's radio audience at the start of the broadcast, saying, "The hospitality State, Mississippi, extends a cordial greeting to Alex Dreier, Man on the Go, and radio listeners everywhere. Mississippi, with its jet-age program of expansion, is truly the State on the Go. If you haven't visited us recently, you'll be amazed at the changes. Why not come for a winter vacation? Wherever you go, don't miss Mississippi."

A vivid picture of the state's amazing progress under Hugh White's famous plan to balance agriculture with industry was given by Alex Dreier, contrasted with the traditional graciousness of her people and the beauty and culture of her cities.

"Natchez, once the cultural, political and commercial center of much of the Old South," said Dreier, still retains her glamour and color. You can't get deeper south in Natchez during the Annual Pilgrimages in March and April, when the women of the Garden Clubs put on their bustled costumes of the early 1800's and serve as gracious hostesses to tens of thousands of tourists.

Vicksburg, the Gibraltar of the Confederacy, is the number one historical attraction in the state. Its pride and joy is the spacious Vicksburg National Military Park, where a heroic story is told in bronze, iron, marble and granite markets. Jackson, the state's capital and largest city, divides its time between politics and the only slightly less spectacular lumbering business, as well as the production of cottonseed oil and textiles. Columbus, rich in tradition and historical background, is the earliest place mentioned in state records. It can remember when the first steamboat landed, back in 1822. Still operating under its original charter, dated 1852, is the oldest bank in the state, and nearby at Rural Hill the first Consolidated School in the nation.

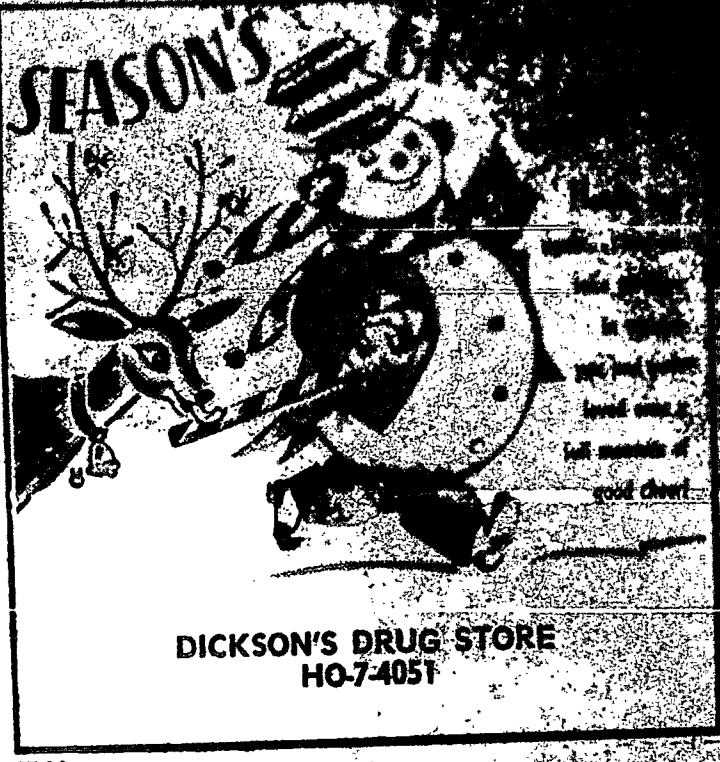

"Is Biloxi, with its glamorous past, old or not? It was the first permanent settlement in the lush

Mississippi Valley and in every tradition, but its glowing beauty and sleek residents have the look of tomorrow. The beaches are seemingly endless, the white sand unbelievably bright. Beauvoir nearby, is its own tourist magnet—the beautifully restored home of Jefferson Davis. And anything Biloxi has, Pascagoula will match, and Pass Christian will try to surpass. These are the unbelievably beautiful Gulf Coast towns, and there are more, like Ocean Springs, Long Beach and Bay Saint Louis.

Despite the "changes wrought by twentieth century economics," Dreier concluded, "the new Mississippi is still the old Mississippi, too. The nation will watch her as she blends the two into an ever greater state, for what happens in Mississippi may well happen everywhere in a South that is awakening to a new rebirth and bending its shoulder to a new kind of wheel—one that may roll it into greater glories than the Old South ever knew."

The Mississippi salute was one of a series of radio programs featuring Alex Dreier as "Man on the Go—for the Van on the Go," sponsored by North American Van Lines, Inc., world-wide long-distance moving firm. There are ten local North American agents in Mississippi cities. World headquarters of the company are at Fort Wayne, Indiana.

Southern Vice Commander John D. Rutherford, Jr. and Hancock County Commander Russell J. Elliott, and wives, motored to the Mid-Winter American Legion Conference in Natchez to represent the Southern District of Mississippi and the Clement R. Bon-toms Post No. 139.

The conference was very well attended with representation from the entire state.

Many enlightening reports were read. Legion programs were planned and reviewed for the coming year. Membership at this time was the most important issue of the conference, which now, of all times, is of most importance due to the proposed cut in Veterans pensions and hospital, and medicine care in the January session of Congress. The Natchez American Legion Post members were most gracious hosts and the entire city did all in their power to make the visiting Legionnaires welcome and have a very enjoyable stay in this historic old city.

EXPENSE ACCOUNT FILINGS ARE NOT REQUIRED FOR '57

The internal revenue service reversed itself and said that taxpayers will not be required to fill in the new expense account line on their individual income tax forms for 1957. Taxpayers have emphasized to the internal revenue service that most employees who are reimbursed for expenses file their bills and receipts with their employers and do not retain copies. All individual tax payers who incur expenses in connection with their employment should keep adequate records for their expenditures and reimbursements so that for 1958 and later years they will be in a position to supply expense account information from their own personal records.

DOLLARS FOR CATTLE, HOGS HELP BALANCE COTTON LOSS

Were it not for livestock and other avenues of agricultural diversification introduced through the years, Christmas bells would ring a hollow note this year. This serves to demonstrate the usefulness of the livestock industry, in a year when the cotton crop has lost up to 50 percent of its value because of weather conditions during the harvest season. In the Southern part of Miss., native cattle usually were the nondescript yellow variety, and there has been

CAN BE REDUCED DURING 1957 PERIOD

Mississippi's traffic death rate can be reduced during 1957. If public support is thrown behind highway safety and the motorist-observers all traffic rules and regulations during December, Public Safety Commissioner Tom Scarborough points out that the state's 1957 death toll may well drop below 600. Five hundred sixty-one motorists were killed last year in traffic mishaps.

Good citizenship on the highway prevents accidents, and if the true spirit of Christmas fellowship manifested at Christmas socials were practiced behind the wheel throughout December, highway fatalities would be curbed. Last year, the December auto death toll climbed to a staggering 77 killed, a primary factor behind the near-record 1957 fatality count.

This year, the state has an opportunity to finish well behind 57, but only if the motorist public adheres to Commissioner Scarborough's appeal for more careful driving. With public cooperation, lives will be saved.

sound reason for wanting darker herefor to change the color of range herds fast.

MISSISSIPPI IS RAPIDLY BECOMING THE NEW LIVESTOCK CENTER OF THE UNITED STATES due to grazing difficulties in the eastern part of the nation. Cotton is still the number one commercial crop but mining has become a significant stimulant to Mississippi's economy in recent years, with the most spectacular developments taking place in oil and gas extraction. Since discovery of the Tinsley Field in 1939 through 1956, Mississippi has produced a total of 508.5 million barrels of oil and 1,368 million MCF of natural gas. In order of value, the principal minerals are petroleum, natural gas, cement and clays.

He So Loved...

HE TAUGHT THE WORLD TO LOVE

For God so loved the world that He gave his only begotten Son.

How meaningful are these words today, nearly two thousand years after the humble beginning of that One Great Life at Bethlehem. How holy and purposeful was this life upon earth that it comes to us again and again in the spirit of Christmas to remind that the real joy and the real goodness of life lie not in riches and gold, or self attainment, but in thoughtful and unselfish service and love.

For He so loved the world that He taught the world to love. Through one, great and wonderful life upon earth. He set down for all mankind and for all time the supreme example of the good life. In His every deed and action He portrayed the qualities of love and faith and kindness.

These qualities—and more—are all a part of Christmas. But, by His example, they are qualities that should abound in our lives throughout the years.

In thankfulness to God, for all His goodness and love, we should keep the Christmas in its true and joyful meaning, the spiritual occasion of the birth of Christ. And if we can keep the spirit of Christ within our hearts throughout the year.

HAL MARCH MAKES MOVIE MARK IN COMEDY AT A&G

Opening at the A&G Theatre, Sunday and Monday, Hear Me Good, the motion picture starring Hal March, may well turn out to be the comedy surprise of the year. Written, produced and directed by Don McGuire, one of Hollywood's most talented hands with a loony plot, rapid-fire, wise-cracking dialogue and zany characters—the Paramount release is cast with a line-up of top notch performers, who, along with the multi-talented March, are capable of turning a McGuire script into a side-splitting antic.

Costarred with March and making his film debut is Joe E. Ross, the hilarious Sgt. Ritzik of the Phil Silvers' TV series, and featured are screen beauties Merry Anders and Jean Willes.

"The Happy Road To Be At Star Theatre Sunday, Monday And Tuesday

Filmed on locations in France, the picture was produced and directed by the multi-talented Gene Kelly, who also plays a top role in a cast featuring the attractive French actress, Barbara Laage, England's Michael Redgrave, and Bobby Clark and Brigitte Fossey, two youngsters who will steal their way into your heart.

The story concerns the adventures, punctuated by both suspense and laughs, of the eleven-year-old American boy, Danny,

WAVELAND

WANDERINGS

by
GEORGETTE B. HALL

Since this is the issue of the Eagle that will get to you just before the Christmas holidays really begin, this reporter would like to take this opportunity to wish everyone a happy holiday filled with all of the good and sincere things that this special time of the year brings with it. We thank you for all the nice things you've said about this column throughout the year and deeply appreciate your contributions to it.

Last year during the week between Christmas and New Year's, we drove through the streets—and sometimes paths—of Waveland admiring the beautiful outdoor and indoor decorations on residences. These were described in the column and many readers told us how much they enjoyed it. We'd like to do the same thing again this year, so if you know of someone who has a particularly outstanding Christmas decoration this year in Waveland, won't you tell us about it? We'd like to drive by and take a look, and then tell our readers.

On Sunday, December 22 at 3 P. M. the children of the parish are welcomed to attend Christmas festivities at the Parish House in Waveland. Movies, refreshments, a real Santa, and gifts will be enjoyed. Holy Name members of St. Clare's Catholic Church are sponsors of this celebration. There is no charge to attend.

Congratulations are in order for Mr. and Mrs. Frank Noto, Jr. on the birth of their first child, a son, Frank III. Mrs. Noto is the former Miss Myrna Strain of Gulfport. Mr. Noto is the son of Mrs. Leona Varborough of Waveland. The young couple are now making their home in Gulfport.

Mr. "Dick" Mestayer, Sr., was taken early Tuesday morning to New Orleans where he is hospitalized. His many friends wish him a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Jackson of New Orleans and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Bordages visited Mr. Jackson's parents in Gulfport during the weekend.

Mrs. Erin McCall Crawford and Mr. Frank Chiniche held "Open House" on Wednesday evening at 254 Sears Avenue honoring Miss Nadine Jamper and Mr. Raymond Schindler who will be married the latter part of this month. Thirty guests enjoyed dancing and refreshments while wishing the young couple the best of luck and years of happiness.

Mrs. Wylie Lawhead of Monroe, La., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Addie Walker and Mr. and Mrs. H. Hicks at their Waveland home. She will remain with them throughout the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Ruppel, Sr., traveled by plane to Mexico City last week where they will visit their son, A. J. Ruppel, and his family. The Ruppels will remain there during the Christmas season.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our deepest appreciation and thanks to all those who extended sympathy and kindness at the time of the death of our beloved husband and father.

We wish to especially thank Father Mercier, Dr. A. P. Smith, the Knights of Columbus, Sisters of St. Joseph, Brothers of St. Stanislaus and St. Augustine and Fahey Funeral Home.

We also want to thank all for the beautiful floral arrangements and Masses.

Mrs. A. E. Aime, And Children.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our many friends for the kindness shown us in the sudden death of our beloved husband and father Jules A. "Dooly" Poolson.

Special thanks to the Breath Family, the Knights of Columbus, Fathers Mercier, Charles and Robinson, Fahey Funeral Home. Also special thanks for the many beautiful cards, flowers and Mass offerings.

There aren't very many people who live in Waveland or who visit in Waveland for any length of time who haven't met Eddie Lulei. Eddie, as he says, the first man out on the street in the morning and the last one at night. But whether night or morning, rainy or cold, foggy or hot, Eddie is always happy and has a cheerful wave or a "hello" for his friends. And as the years pass, he doesn't seem to change. Eddie is going to have a birthday on Christmas Day. Perhaps celebrating his birthday on the same day as the Christ Child's has given Eddie an inner goodness which is seen by so many of his friends. We thought it would be nice if everyone who knows Eddie would send him a Christmas-Birthday card in care of the Waveland Post Office. I, for one, know that it would make him very happy.

Welfare Department
The special House Committee on Finance, at the request of Governor F. H. Coleman, has authorized the Welfare Department to increase the amount of the monthly maintenance grants to needy families and individuals. The increase is to be made effective on January 1, 1935.

Under the new schedule it is possible that $300,000 of funds...

PURSER HEWITT NEW CHAIRMAN OF MISS. LIBRARY WEEK
Purser Hewitt, executive editor of The Clarion Ledger, today became chairman of the Mississippi Library Week Committee.

As committee chairman, Hewitt will spearhead Mississippi's part in a major national reading promotion drive.

"The drive has as its goal the re-establishment of reading in the daily life of every American," Hewitt said.

Focusing on the rewards of reading for fun, knowledge and advancement and on the services of libraries of all kinds, the drive will culminate in the first National Library Week, March 16-22.

"Now as never before, a united effort to increase reading is needed," Hewitt continued. "A recent survey shows that over 90% of U. S. adults had not read a single book last year."

"More reading is vital for an informed public in today's complex world—and for mental challenge and satisfying recreation in the coming age of leisure."

The Mississippi Library Week Committee, now being organized, will include prominent business and professional men and women throughout the state.

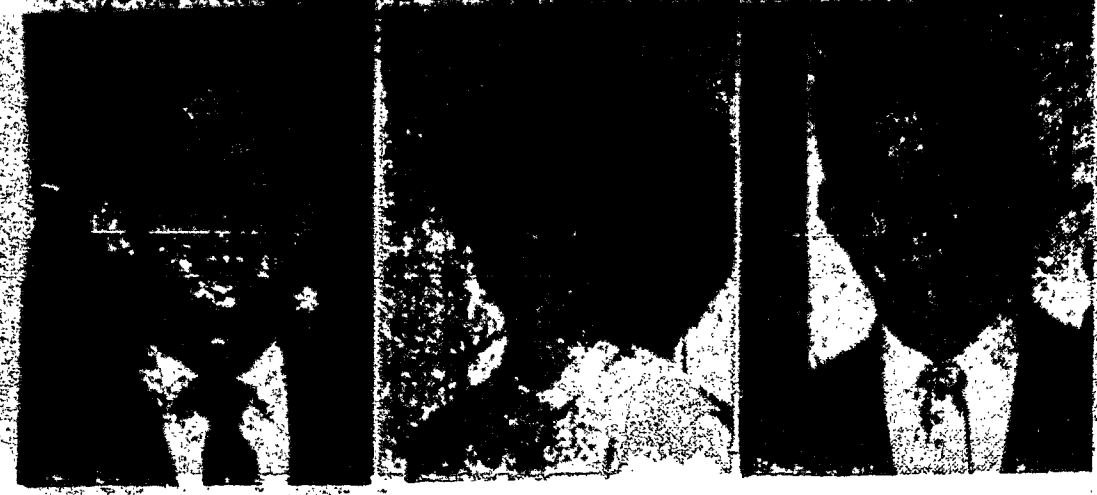

"This committee represents the widest community interests. Its activities to encourage reading—in homes, schools, churches, businesses and civic centers—can make our drive here one of the nation's most effective," Hewitt said.

Hewitt is well known throughout Mississippi and the South. He joined the staff of the Clarion Ledger in 1926 as city and sports reporter and has served successively as sports and city editor, news editor and managing editor.

Active in professional, civic and religious circles, Hewitt is a member of the national professional journalism fraternity, Sigma Delta Chi; former chairman of the Louisiana-Miss. Associated Press Association; member of the Associated Press managing Editors Assn. of the Nat. Conference of Editorial Writers and of the National Religious News Writers Association.

No New Appropriation
Commissioner Holcomb pointed out that it was not necessary to request an increase in any appropriation to carry out this program. Funds accumulated with the Department following a change in federal matching formula in October 1934 made the necessary state monies available.

Governor Coleman's decision to include welfare matters as special business and the overwhelming approval given by both Senate and House reflected the sincere interest by all groups in the social problems of our State, Holcomb said.

STATE COLLEGE, MISS.—A sectional and national 4-H Club winner. All three of the young leaders are members of the Clay County, and James Ford of Greenville, Washington County, a large delegation of Mississippi 4-H Club winners attending the Chicago meeting.

Both Ford and Miss Landess have achieved impressive records in many 4-H Club projects and activities.

Miss Landess, now a junior at Mississippi State College for Women, has participated in 4-H Club activities for 10 years and served as an officer for six years. During this time she has entered 233 exhibits, served on five judging teams and 12 demonstration teams.

James Ford, a past president of his local 4-H Club, has worked in 4-H activities for seven years. He has held 13 offices and served on 24 committees during this time and has also given 120 talks including 14 over the radio and 10 on television. In 1934 he was the winner of the State Public Speaking Contest.

Ford is now serving as President of the Greenville High School 4-H Club. He plans to continue developing his leadership ability through concentrated work with younger members on their various projects and records.

Bad winds affected fishing this past weekend. The water was good and tides normal but the fish just wouldn't cooperate. However, green trout and perch were hitting fairly good.

"Pope" Trasher, Harold Bates and yours truly were trying salt water fishing Sunday. One rat red was the catch. Pope thinks he was the "loser" but he's all wet! Not the luckiest time.

Glad to see Joe Coppelich home after being in the hospital for eye treatment. Good luck, Joe!

Sorry to hear of the death of our good friend and sportsman, Gus Aime. Gus was a good guy and a good sport.

College boys will be home for the holidays soon. Fishing, golf, hunting and other sports will be in the limelight. Among them will be Billy Scarborough, the golfer. We made a mistake last week when we said Billy had a "7" for nine holes, it was a "37." These linotype machines do funny things especially during the Xmas rush!

Welcome home, Eddie Blaise. Eddie is home to stay we understand after being away in the hospital for quite a while. Take it easy, Eddie.

Another out after a siege of illness is Arthur Christy. He told me he thinks he will live after undergoing a real check-up. See you soon Arthur!

Rabbit hunters are reporting getting a few. The same goes for doves. Not much on ducks. Saw a flock of about 500 geese pass over Saturday afternoon. Where they went nobody knows.

Those kids in the Flea-Fly game had a great time Sunday. They should be congratulated as well as those who sponsored this worthy cause. "Flip" Johnson did a good job as chairman of the affair.

City Decorates For Yuletide Season

It's worth a ride on Necaise to see the attractive Yuletide decorations on the doorway, picture window and front porch of the Jos. Lolacano home.

The beautiful large home has one of the most attractive seasonal displays we have yet encountered on our rides through the city.

Using gaily colored cuts out, glittering cards and colored lighting, the decorations are attractive during both day and night hours.

Each year the Lolacanos decorate their home, in addition to stringing colored lights over the street for about a two block area on Necaise Avenue from Main past St. John Street.

Mr. Lolacano, a well known merchant of Bay St. Louis, with his wife Doris have always been interested in Bay St. Louis. They own considerable improved real estate, which they keep in excellent condition, an asset to any community, and have been generous through the years by contributing to all causes for the benefit of Bay St. Louis and Hancock County.

It was still a little early for too many homes to be decorated with gay Christmas scenes, but in journeying about we did encounter some other very attractive outdoor displays. Across from the Lolacano home on Necaise on the freshly painted rooftop of the open car port of the Lucien Kidd home was Jolly Santa himself just getting ready to take off in his sled with flying reindeer start in the leap into the blue sky. The gay old gent in his red suit with white trim and white whiskers, brought a cheery bon voyage as he seemed ready to sprint his horned steeds to his next port of call in bringing Christmas Cheer.

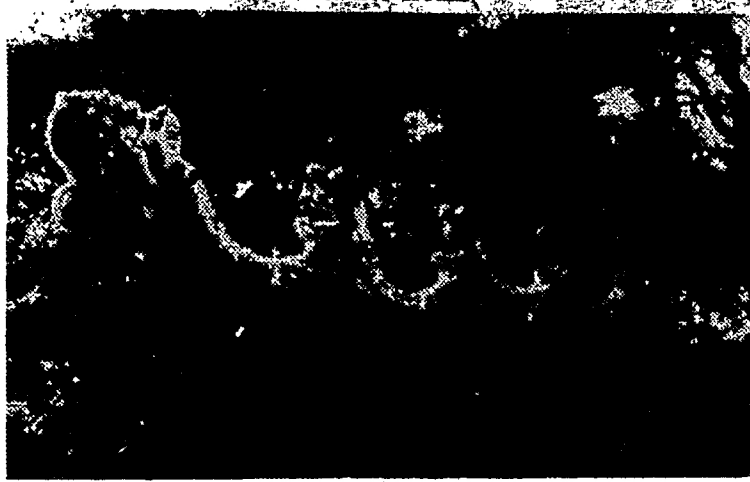

Most alluring is the cute sign wishing seasons greetings to one and all outside the Merchants Bank and Trust Company. The large holly wreath with its huge red bow surrounds the tiny people apparently just ready to burst into gay Christmas Carols.

Along the beach south and up from the massive iron gates and fence of the E. M. Brignac home, Santa beat us on the run, and was just getting ready to swoop down from the blue to leave a portion from his pack for the good people inside. Santa laughs and winks at us as we gaze in awe and consternation, the size and shape of his reindeer have somewhat changed since we saw him just a few minutes before at the Kidd home, but the merry old gent again waves his hand, and we go on, knowing whatever size or shape, Santa and his reindeer take they still are the Spirit of Christmas, and wherever people have taken the pains and patience to decorate their homes and yards for the pleasure of other townfolk then the spirit of Christmas and what it stands for is prevalent and a Merry Christmas will be the joy of all.

We also feel a warm glow as we drive and see the twinkling colored lights throwing out bright beams against the darkened winter night skies. In all of the business sections of the city, these bright bulbs of color dance gaily, and even the austere and dignified Courthouse and City Hall buildings take on a golden glow, with brilliant hued globes throwing iridescent beauty on Christmas Greetings and large poster cut outs. The City and County join with their people to wish a Happy Holiday Season to all.

Klin Boys Win St. Martin's Tournament

In capturing the trophy at St. Martin's Invitational Tournament, Dec. 16, 1957, Klin got a record for Gulf Coast basketball teams. It won its 30th straight game. Klin knocked off St. Martin's 54-27 for the title.

To gain the journey crown, Klin downed Wade 66-54, took Augusta 60-47 and then defeated St. Martin, running up a point total of 189 in those three games. In the final Klin went ahead 12-3 and stayed in front for the remainder of the game. The quarter scores were 24-12 and 37-23. Leading the Klin were Douglas Necaise with 16 points and Leland Mitchell with 14.

Leland Martin was named to the boys' tournament all-star team and Douglas Necaise made the honorary mention squad.

This is the Wildcat third trophy for this season. They were also winners in the invitational tournaments at Home, Vocational and Savannah.

Coach W. M. Simmons is high in praise of his boys. He stated, "This is a young and inexperienced team, but I have never had the pleasure of working with a cleaner, more interested and harder working group of boys. They have far exceeded my expectations at the beginning of this season."

Funeral Services For Mrs. Paula Jenks Held

Services were held Friday, Dec. 13, at 1:45 p. m. from Fahy Funeral Home followed by religious services from Christ Episcopal Church for Mrs. Paula Von Gohren Jenks, widow of the late W. W. Jenks, of Mobile, Ala., and mother of John M. Jenks, of New Orleans, La. Interment in Cedar Rest Cemetery.

Mrs. Jenks who died in Mercy Hospital, New Orleans, Thursday, Dec. 12 at 12:20 p. m. was one of Bay St. Louis' long standing prominent matrons. A founder of the Episcopal Church when it was first established in Cedar Point, and a worker in the church until shortly before her death.

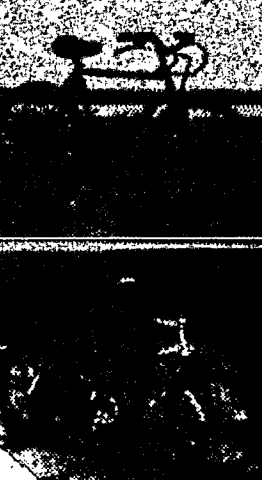

After the death of her husband, she made her home with her sister the late Mrs. Walter Gex, Sr., and her nieces Misses Ethel and Stella Gex. She was the aunt of Lucien M. and Walter Gex, Jr., and of the late Mrs. Wena Gex Phillips. Also survived by grandchildren, great grandchildren, and great nieces and nephews.

Mrs. Katherine Burg Dies At Her Home In Waveland, December 12

Mrs. Katherine R. Burg, 82 years of age, a resident for the past forty years of Waveland, died at her home 178 Sobral Avenue, Thursday, December 12, at 12:20 a. m. She is survived by her husband J. J. Burg.

Funeral services were held in New Orleans from Jacob Schoer and Sons, Friday, Dec. 13, with interment in St. Vincent de Paul Cemetery, motor transportation by Fahy Funeral Home.
